FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Kinze Offers Conversions Kits for EdgeVac Meters to 4000 Series Vacuum Meters

Meter conversion will allow for superior agronomic performance

WILLIAMSBURG, Iowa – (February 17, 2015) – Kinze® Manufacturing, Inc. is introducing the option to convert EdgeVac meters to 4000 Series Vacuum meters. This conversion allows for superior agronomic performance with singulation accuracy up to 99%+ and accurate seed spacing and population.

Kinze is releasing two kinds of conversion kits, the conventional hopper conversion kit and the bulk fill hopper conversion kit, which are available for planter models 3110, 3140, 3200, 3500, 3600, 3660, 3700 and 3800, build years 2010 and newer.

“Kinze was founded 50 years ago, and from the beginning we’ve known that innovation is the key to making superior machinery,” said Susanne Veatch, Kinze’s vice president and chief marketing officer. “We strive to provide our customers with the best products, and are offering this meter conversion option as a way to help increase the already proven performance of our planters.”

Kits are available for purchase through your local Kinze dealer. To learn more about Kinze planters, visit www.Kinze.com.
